PRESS RELEASE

14th June 2010

WHAT'S ON AT AMBERLEY MUSEUM & HERITAGE CENTRE

Father's Day Event

Sunday 20th June 2010

'Dad's go free' this Father's Day, at Amberley Museum.

Is your Dad a fan of vintage vehicles and traditional crafts? If so, why not give him a day out to remember at Amberley Museum this Father's Day.

As a special treat for fanatical Dad's, Amberley Museum, just north of Arundel, is offering Dad's the chance to get up close to some of its star attractions this Father's Day. They can have a footplate ride on a narrow gauge steam locomotive or steer the Museum's full size Marshall steam roller – a great way to let off a little steam! Dads who prefer to remain clean can opt to be part of history in the making and try their hand at the traditional crafts on offer at the Museum, which include hook making with the Blacksmith, broom making with our Besom Broom Maker and other creative activities.

Why not treat Dad to a spot of lunch at the Limeburners restaurant when you visit too? Offering plenty of seating and a delightful terrace, it's the perfect place to stop to enjoy the unique environment of Amberley. So, whatever the weather, Amberley offers a truly memorable experience for all of the family this Father's Day.

Admission for Dad's is free when accompanied by a child under 15. Please note that most activities have to be booked on the day and some of the running times might be limited.

For further information please visit the Museums website: www.amberleymuseum.co.uk or call the Museum office on 01798 831370.
