STATIONARY ENGINE WORKING DAY

Sunday 6th June 2010

We are pleased to bring you details of the 2010 Stationary Engine Working Day at Amberley Museum.

Our aim is to provide something of interest for both the enthusiast and the general public, by presenting a good cross-section of engines and their associated machinery. For the exhibitor, we hope to provide an enjoyable day in interesting surroundings, and excellent company!

Each year we include a special display on a particular theme and this year we feature French engines and Fairbanks Morse engines.

As before, other engines are also welcome, both solo and driving machinery, and we expect to have a full entry once again. There may also be a small number of engine-related sales and display stands.

All engines must of course be insured, and proof of this will be asked for on the day.

There is no entry fee for the exhibitor and one passenger arriving with the engine. However any additional adult passengers are subject to a charge of £5.00 per person payable in advance with your entry form. You will receive an admission pass for them with your entry number.

We hope you will want to join us for what should be a very enjoyable day for all concerned. To enter, please complete the form opposite and return it to Ian Sampson at the address shown as soon as possible. A stamped self-addressed envelope would be very much appreciated. The closing date for entries is Saturday 8th May.

Please note that vehicles must arrive on site between 8.00am and 9.45am and cannot leave until 4.30pm. Early arrivals should park in the station car park until 8.00am. All modern vehicles on site will be parked out of sight of the public.

We have special parking arrangements for exhibitors with disabilities so please let us know your requirements with your entry form.
